Hutterites' Freedom In Danger

The Hutterites in Canada are facing a new threat to their way of life. The Canadian government is considering legislation that would require Hutterite colonies to register as businesses. This would mean that the colonies would have to pay taxes and follow the same regulations as other businesses. The Hutterites are concerned that this would threaten their religious freedom and their traditional way of life.

Drivers are urged to take extra precautions during the winter months. The Stettler Independent is providing the following traffic tips: 1. Check your car's condition before driving. 2. the eyes caught on so well that today, on Casey Island for example, there's one hot dog stand that sells over 5,000 hot dogs a year. This is the equivalent of 500 head of cattle, plus 15,000 gallons of mustard.

In the U.S., wieners are often referred to as frank or frankfurter, a name which originally traces back to Frankfurt, Germany, where a group of local butchers got together in 1396 and formed the first association of wieners. And there, hot dogs played a central role.

And there's what hot dogs and wiener really are—about 80% beef, 20% pork, with salt, sugar, and spices added. So as you're more apt to hear them described at a baseball game or at the fairgrounds . . . "There a wiener, hot dog?"

First Question?

NO

It's likely to be one word... "Insurance!"

More important than just having insurance is the company you insure with. You want to know:

- Have you implemented a change your policy to keep up with the times?
- Do you have a professional agent to give you a complete, total insurance with a full service "package" program?
- Do you have the most experienced and qualified people to help you?

Since Thomas Edison first transformed electricity into light, hundreds of other wonderful conveniences have come our way. All made possible by electricity. Electricity gives us a constant source of living every time we turn on our electric ranges, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, and so on. Electricity powers us with entertainment through our radios and television sets. Thomas Edison's bright idea has become a boon to all mankind. We reached this stage thanks to his search.

Poultry Situation

Although many poultry producers are looking for a better price for their birds, the situation is not as optimistic as it once was. The price of poultry has been low for some time, and producers are having to make adjustments.

Producers are looking for ways to improve their production and reduce their costs. They are also looking for ways to market their birds more effectively.

The poultry industry is facing many challenges, but producers are determined to overcome them. They are working hard to improve the quality of their birds and to provide the best possible service to their customers.

For Erskine's Decline

Mathews 12 travelers are well equipped and I realize that every country in the country will look down on me, not at me for what I am, but for what I have given. If it is necessary to have such a newspaper, it is better to have one on the table than a table. I will take for myself.

If it were possible to concentrate and run that staff it would make the given staff a very good one. I would not be a Black 100,000 could man the factory. Now, I know, my countrymen don't breathe through the nose, they breathe through the mouth and with such a small staff.

But seriously, there is no remedy for this situation. Perhaps we can persuade Mr. Taylor to move the highway towards the south. The man who eliminated that small is a clerk in the next number from the next number. The man who might have been a clerk in the next number from the next number.

Mr. Taylor is the father and Director of the Bureau for my countrymen.

DO IT NOW! NOW! NOW!

For the past five months you have been exhorted by Radio, TV and Newspaper to do it now. You may have found it impossible to acquire the help necessary to do it during the winter because the builders of the district were having the busiest season on record, due of course to the $500.00 winter incentive bonus and other winter work programs supported by the governments at all levels. That is all past and now the builders and their employees stand ready to give the ultimate in service at the lowest prices possible, consistent with good work.

ness drive through what ment. Consultants acquire they moved and what others they used it and pay for it out of future earnings is everything a healthy business can do to ensure distribution and consumption of goods.
Our economy could not function without credit. As we know it, this credit is not what it is historically was. Both the size and the reach of credit have grown exponentially, with energy and assets in the extension of both the credit growth and the economy.

Government has been slow to grapple and provided no direction. The business community has also been slow to respond. Credit rationing has taken its toll. Results to date have been gratifying but much remains yet to be done.
Planned credit is the only answer.

Exchange View of Donatelli United Church

The Donatelli United Church, which is located in the town of Donatelli, has been visited by a group of people from the Endiang community. The group, which was led by a representative from the Endiang community, spent time with the people of Donatelli and discussed the church's activities and needs.

The group was very impressed by the church's work and the dedication of its members. They also discussed the church's plans for the future and the need for more resources to carry out its mission.

The group will be returning to Endiang with a better understanding of the church's work and the needs of the people of Donatelli. They will be able to provide more support and resources to the church in the future.

MEET HARRY VOLD

Born in 1921 and raised in the Ponoka District, Harry, along with his brother Ted, supplied much of his food needs in 1941 in the home ranch at Alder, Alberta, having approximately two hundred head of breeding horses at that time. With the war on, Harry had to find a way to make a living. He did this by selling his horses to the U.S. Army.

In the early 1950's Harry's horse breeding business came from Canada through Harry Vold. In an article written by Harry Vold, several times World Saddle Horse Riding Champion, Tilden Fore, the horse named as the best bucking horse he had ever seen, is said to be owned by Harry Vold. It was through these dealings that Harry was realized that the day was fast approaching when bucking stock would not be as plentiful in Canada as needed of setting these goods here for to get a string of his own.

In 1950, Harry, went into the rodeo business as a "round" supplying stock at the Ponoka Rodeo that and every year since. In 1960 Harry was traded to a substantial stock of his own in Canada and the U.S. had rights to make professional rodeo men.

The horse Harry raised the best to have ever owned and has had more money won on thousands of other horses in Canada. In 1960 Harry's first prize was won at the first National Ponoka Rodeo held in Dallas, Texas in 1960 against a 1961 world champion 1962 horse it was held in Los Angeles, was placed on almost every horse he has won. The cattle brand riding has been won on almost every horse in Edmonton, Calgary, Ellensburg, Washington, Portland, Oregon, Denver, Colorado and the Cow Palace in San Francisco, California.

Harry now owns approximately two hundred and fifty breeding horses, thirty-five bucking bulls, fifty head of Mexican digging snags, fifty-five saddle and parade horses, set of parade harness, six trucks, four of them cattle laws and a truck loaded in all enough to easily put on two rodeos on the same day.

Harry's home ranch is at DeWinton but he also has a ranch at Three Mile in the Ponoka area, which is pretty well covered for most of his Canadian rodeo. During July and August Vold supplies stock at two to-day rodeos almost every week. This is why his Ponoka ranch owns in real handy always having a fresh string of stock in grass he keeps changing stock when. This is no doubt the best reason his horses keep bucking throughout the summer when he is riding-own as steadily.

Harry competes in rodeo in middle burner and headwork riding until 1964.

News Briefs From The 'Heart of the Goose Country'

The man who has been named as the author of the cartoon strip, which has been running in the Stettler Independent for several weeks, is H. H. H. The cartoon is a humorous take on the life of a farmer in the 'Heart of the Goose Country'.

One of the most interesting features of the cartoon is the way it depicts the relationship between the man and the woman. The man is often shown in a state of distress, while the woman is usually the one who is calm and collected.

The cartoon also touches on the theme of the importance of the goose in the local economy. The man is often shown tending to his geese, and the woman is often seen with a basket of geese on her back.

Overall, the cartoon is a well-crafted and humorous piece of work. It is a good example of the kind of local journalism that the Stettler Independent is known for.

Possible Approach To Feed Shortage

It is estimated that the world's population will reach 4 billion by the year 2000. This will create a serious problem of food supply. One possible solution is to increase the production of food crops. This can be done by using more land and by using more efficient farming methods.

Electoral Map Myth

The British North American Act - foundation of the Canadian constitution - requires that the federal government be elected by the people. The myth of an electoral map, however, is a fiction. The federal government is elected by the people, not by a map. The federal government is elected by the people, not by a map. The federal government is elected by the people, not by a map.

How To Bee Successful

Now the ban can be overturned here, and this year for the first time it was increased on a commercial scale so that large quantities of alfalfa could be sold.

Dr G A Hobbs of the Lethbridge Research Station reports that considerable success was achieved at increasing the number of bees and alfalfa seed where they were properly managed. The bees are reared in soda straws and Dr Hobbs found two important things. Fewer bees died in straws that were loose and not imbedded in wax or plaster of paris. And much greater production was achieved where quarter inch straws were used instead of the smaller three sixteenth inch straws. Male anthracinus reproduced

The smaller straw/oat hull served the females five to nine days, while the females that do the work there was a corresponding drop in both bee and seed production.

The bees are overwintered by removing the healthy cocoons from the comb straw and storing them in jars at 40 degrees Fahrenheit. A couple of weeks before the adults bloom the cocoons are put singly into straw and incubated at 85 degrees. When emergence is well under way they are placed out in the field.

Those who tried to overwinter and incubate the cocoons without taking them out of the straws really had problems," says Dr. Hobbs. The Dermatitis debilis eating insects also lay some eggs in the soda straws during the summer and should be removed from the straws before they fall along with the debris and not removed, they emerge before the bees during incubation and eat their way out through the bees and all. He says there were some large bee losses because this precaution wasn't taken.

Dr. Hobbs has found that the bees can be successfully incubated in shallow trays. They're put above their man-made

We are gradually finding new time and labor saving methods of handling these bees says Dr Hobbs. He plans to issue a bulletin on new management techniques for leaf-cutters about next March.

6,500,000 Canadians Face Personalized Income Tax Forms

The legal department prepares all the papers necessary, makes presentation to the court

The papers are approved by the judge, and after a period of 90 days after the date of non-accusation, the defendant must answer in writing to the charges and clothing. This allows relatives to look after children and has greatly reduced the number of children in custody.

Previously, there were about 1000 wards each year in Alberta and of these about 160 were placed in residential care. Now, only 100 are placed and many have been introduced, such as the Guardian Social Allowance.

No Age Limit on Junior Band Membership

Mark your calendar - Wednesday, February 17th! Note the place - the Elementary School Playground! Set your watch - 1:30 P.M.! The reason for all the enthusiasm? The Organization Committee for the Stittler Junior Band has called the second session of parents, children and businessmen in order to discuss at that time many worthwhile in connection with the establishing of such a band in Stittler.

The Committee, appointing a steering head last week, consists of Jim MacKenzie, of the CBC, and Wes Haight, Mrs. and Mr. F. Nichols, and Mr. R. Macdonald.

Part of the first meeting will be to discuss in detail time and date of the annual parade, the promotion of a Banquet would promote the cause of band music in Stettler and district. We hope to have a representative from the local Music Shop of Calgary present that night to discuss the matter of instrumental rentals, and it is quite probable that we will also have some word on the location being returned to the P.P.C.I.J. Band of Edmonton, concerning a proposed band concert.

By the way — when we call it JUNIOR Band, we don't mean that it's for junior-high people only. It is actually for any who see beginners in band music, and have a desire to play regardless of their ages. No minimum age has been declared, although it is thought that students would have to be at least eight years old in order to qualify.

A Plan To Keep Rabbits Out Of Alberta

The Alberta Game and Fish Commission has approved a plan to eradicate the rabbit from the province. The plan is to use a virus which will kill the rabbits but not the humans. The virus is called myxomatosis and it is a disease which is fatal to rabbits. The Commission has approved the plan because it is the only way to get rid of the rabbits. The rabbits are a pest and they are doing a lot of damage to the land. The Commission has approved the plan because it is the only way to get rid of the rabbits. A History Worth Recalling Picture our countrymen of the West, struggling to make a living out of the land, and you will find that the history of the West is a history of struggle.

The West was a land of pioneers, and it was a land of struggle. The pioneers who came to the West were men of courage and determination, and they were men who were willing to sacrifice everything for the sake of a better life.
